In Memoriam

"Gone but not forgotten"—Mr. Father, C. S. Ferguson, who departed from our home one year ago today, March 4.

Oh dear father, how we miss you. Realizing you are gone, Tears creep forth from beneath our lashes, And our hearts are strangely lone.

While our arms extend in longing just to clasp your form once more, But we know you have gone— Never to come back again.

A precious one from us has gone, A voice we loved is still A place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled.

More than usual activity was evident along the lane near the court house where horse-trading is the pastime. Farmers are getting ready for another service that day. We want to have every member present for at least one service. No special offering will be taken. Just a good old-fashioned Methodist service.

Special religious services begin April 9th. Services each evening through April 16th. I am counting on you to help make the "Go To Church Day" a success. There will be regular services here Sunday, March 19.

Sunday School 9:45 A. M. Graded lessons for all age groups.

Evening Worship 7:30 p. m. Our services are free and interesting.

Liberty Baptist Church W. M. Thompson, Minister.

9:30 A. M. Sunday School. Don Moore, Superintendent.

11:00 A. M. Morning Worship. Sermon subject: "Decaying Love."

7:00 P. M. B. Y. P. U. s. Junior Interim and Senior.

8:00 P. M. M. M. s. Worship. Sermon subject: "Neglected Opportunity."

Now is the time to go to church. The weather and the roads are good. We shall look for those who have been shut in on account of weather and roads.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Pretlow

Mrs. Annie Abbott Pretlow, widow of the late T. B. Pretlow, died at her home here Tuesday evening, following a lingering illness. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the home, conducted by the Rev. W. M. Thompson. Interment was in Liberty Cemetery.

Mrs. Pretlow is survived by the following children: Sarah Frances and Joshua; one sister, Mrs. Eleanor Coleman, of Norfolk; one brother, Emmett Abbott, of Marion; and a number of nieces and nephews.

She was a faithful member of Liberty Baptist and was highly esteemed in this section. Her death will be greatly mourned by her loved ones and many friends.

Busby Plowing

Farmers in this section have taken advantage of ideal weather and a land conditions this week to get well ahead of their spring plowing.

Land is being made ready for corn, tobacco and all regular crops. Gardening has also received more attention than usual, due perhaps to the requirement for gardens by those seeking federal crop loans.

Arrangements have been made for every farmer in this county in Virginia, with the exception of Franklin, Wythe and Buchanan counties, to attend this eight-month school term this year. This announcement came from the state board of education Tuesday of this week.

Father DARKLEAF'S

Column BY C.H.R.

Sir Roger L'Estrange relates the story of the cock and the horse. The cock had gotten in to roost with the horse, and there being no racks for his convenience, he was forced to roost upon the ground. The horse just about for room and put the cock in danger of his life. Whereupon, he gave the cock this grave advice: "Tray, my friends, let us stand still for fear we should tread upon one another."

It beats us no end, the stuff people will write! Take a recent issue of the popular magazine, Liberty. The lady who conducts a column exclusively for women readers, in talking about absent-mindedness, asks if her readers have ever gotten their shaving cream on their tooth brush, or tooth paste on their shaving-stick!

And in the same column Lupe Valdez is lauded for her habits of savings, boasting that she has $4.95 in the bank and hoards in her safety deposit box. Oh yash—tell it to Woodin, will ya.

And the new money the treasury is getting out couldn't be Woodin nichols, now could it?

The Letter Box

Dear Editor,

Beware—not the Idea of March, but figuring the age of a person born on the 25th of February, unless you have been in mind that about once in a hundred years one day is dropped from the calendar, and that day, February 29th. This happened in 1900, so there was no February 29th from February, 1896 to February, 1904. Lowell Thomas, in his radio news talk, on February 27th, said a man in New Jersey, born 1824 would be 109 years old February 28th.

Two mistakes in that statement, his birthday number, 28 and he was 109 years old the day after the 28th of February, which was March 1.

Yours truly, R. C. Wagner.

After the drastic action taken by our President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, since his inauguration on March 4th, we hear the question, "What does it mean?" Will he be successful in pulling us out of this depression? Is he man enough to handle the situation? To these questions I am forced to answer: I do not know. Time will only tell, but I've read and heard enough to believe that he has worked out a solution of our problems. So far we are forced to admire the direction of his actions.

Franklin D. Roosevelt's bitter enemies do not give him credit for being a fool, and he is aware of the fact, that if he isn't able, within a year, to show progress, that he is politically dead for ever, and I don't believe that a man of his intellect and political station would take such a chance, unless he was absolutely convinced that he knew the right way.

If he had been weak or uncertain it would not seem reasonable that he would have asked Congress for the power with which they have clothed him, rather he would have been glad to have hidden behind their skirts and lay at their door the responsibility of our future, but it was not his way.

He graciously takes the responsibility of bucking Wall Street, slashing government salaries, and expenditures, and handling many other matters that Congress heretofore was afraid or failed to handle.

In justice to the 73rd Congress, I do not think that our President was afraid that they would not cooperate with him in passing legislation suitable to meet the existing conditions, but was afraid the time, going through the regular route would be detrimental to the best interest of our people. Our 73rd Congress has not shared their duty, but for expediency sake, has vested in our President this great power. A summary of it all is this: The people of the United States had faith enough in President Roosevelt to elect him by the largest majority ever given a President; Congress had to grant him every time; and the public, by the greatest power ever given a peace-time President; and by his actions since his inauguration, he has proven that he has faith in himself. What more could you ask?

Buckingham Court In Session This Week

Planting Intentions Are Reported

Buckingham, March 15.—The March term of the circuit court met here yesterday with one of the biggest crops in recent years in attendance.

Farming and financial conditions forced to the front in conversation around the court yard.

Farmers freely admitted having plenty of food and produce of every variety, but acknowledged lack of cash. Some stated that they had done R.F.C. road work to get cash to pay their taxes.

More than usual activity was evident along the lane near the court house where horse-trading is the pastime. Farmers are getting ready for another service that day. We want to have every member present for at least one service. No special offering will be taken. Just a good old-fashioned Methodist service.
